

Support for Ukraine

The events in Ukraine continue to shock, sadden and appal us, as individuals, as a business and as a country and as the war continues (now well over 4 months at the time of writing), we have pledged to continue supporting Ukraine and its people.

At the outset, every news, financial and social channel were filled with news, updates, theories and projections; but as time goes on, the level of coverage has diminished and the outrage appears to have quietened. Some people who do not have a direct connection to Ukraine or the war have potentially become more hardened and even accustomed to additional reports and insights of the activities and atrocities taking place in Ukraine, but as a business, we are determined that this conflict will not become accepted as something we cannot do anything about and will continue to do what we can to help those affected by the war and will continue to remind everyone that Ukraine still needs our support.
